

SIVAKARTHIKEYAN S

FULL STACK DEVELOPER & TRAINER

As a Full Stack Developer, I focus on both front-end and back-end of the web application. And I focus on writing reusable, testable and efficient code. And I also focus on creating user interfaces and user experiences for web applications. I combine elements of graphic design, psychology, and engineering to create a product that looks good and is easy and enjoyable to use. And I train more students for their career growth in the field of programming world.
